CONFERENCE SUMMARY

The 24th Annual Vermont Perspectives in Anesthesia Conference will be held March 6-10, 2019 at the Stowe Mountain Lodge. The conference provides accredited education for a variety of health care professionals, including anesthesiologists, nurse anesthetists, and anyone with an interest in the field of anesthesia. This conference is designed to provide practical and timely, informative clinical updates on a variety of topics of current interest. Participants will be able to identify and discuss recent developments and trends through comprehensive didactic sessions. Faculty includes recognized experts in their fields, both on a national level and from the University of Vermont. The atmosphere will be friendly and informal and there will be ample time for questions and discussions with faculty and colleagues.
