Subject: Getting Involved in Emergency Medicine

Are you a student interested in emergency medicine? If so, you should definitely check out The American Academy of Emergency Medicine/Resident and Student Association (AAEM/RSA)! www.aaemrsa.org

In case you haven't heard of AAEM/RSA, it is the specialty society of emergency medicine that aims to advocate for students, physicians and the field of emergency medicine in general. AAEM/RSA offers some really great benefits and resources for students. The best part is that students can sign up for their first year of membership for FREE!

With the free trial membership, students receive:

- Electronic subscription our newsletter Common Sense and RSA Modern Resident Blog
- Online access to our excellent resource Rules of the Road for Medical Students and to our comprehensive website.

For students who wish to sign up for a paid membership, two options are available: a $30 or $60 paid membership.

Highlights of the $30 memberships include

- FREE entry to the annual AAEM Scientific Assembly
- A paperback version of Rules of the Road for Medical Students
- Discounts on several products
- Access to the popular podcast Emergency Medicine: Reviews and Perspectives (EM:RAP)
- An outstanding monthly educational series that will help you look like a star on your clerkships!

Students who choose the $60 benefits will receive an online subscription to the Journal of Emergency Medicine in addition to all of the great benefits offered with the $30 membership.

Check out our website to learn more about what AAEM/RSA offers and to become a member: <http://www.aaemrsa.org/benefits/aaemrsa-student-benefits>

As the Northeast representative on the AAEM/RSA Medical Student Council, I encourage you to reach out to me if you have any questions or ideas about how AAEM/RSA can best serve you.
