Subject: Interventional Radiology program pending approval in mid September at John T. Mather Memorial Hospital

John T. Mather Hospital is proud to announce the opening of a brand new ACGME accredited Interventional Radiology Residency Program, pending accreditation mid-September. Located in Port Jefferson, NY, the program will be sponsored by Stony Brook Medicine and will be designed to provide residents with the knowledge and skills that are required for any possible future experience in Interventional radiology that they might aspire to – be it a research position at a university, clinical subspecialty practice at a major medical center, or a general radiology practice in a community setting.

We will still go through ERAS and the Match. We are in the process of being added to their system and would request that you let interested candidates know about us. Please ask them to check on a daily basis to see when the proper ERAS page is set up.

Below this E-mail you will find some links with information about Port Jefferson and John T. Mather Memorial Hospital. We would greatly appreciate your office's help in forwarding this to your graduating students.

We look forward to welcoming our first group of Interventional Radiology residents 2018 to Port Jefferson and having the privilege of educating them here at Mather Hospital.
