

Red Wheelbarrow Call for Submissions

GUIDELINES AND INSTRUCTIONS:

Greetings! UVMLCOM's literary and visual arts journal, The Red Wheelbarrow, is looking for submissions in the literary and visual arts related to the medical humanities. The medical humanities is an interdisciplinary field that aims to make sense of medical practice, education and human health and disease. We also encourage submissions that are unrelated to the medical humanities – we just love to see people's creativity! The literary arts include works such as, but not limited to, prose, poetry, reporting and personal essays. The visual arts include works such as, but not limited to, photography, painting, graphic design and drawing. Any 3-D art is also encouraged. For 3-D submissions, please provide a picture of your work.

FOR ALL SUBMISSIONS: Send to redwheelbarrowuvm@gmail.com. Please include your name and class year or position in the hospital in the subject line.

LITERARY ARTS SUBMISSIONS: Please submit your work as a double-spaced word document saved as "LastName_FirstName_Writing."

VISUAL ARTS SUBMISSIONS: Please submit a photograph(s) of your work in .jpg format saved as "LastName_FirstName_Art." If necessary, we can take more images of your work for publishing purposes.

If you have questions about submissions or would like to get involved with us, please e-mail redwheelbarrowuvm@gmail.com or collin.york@med.uvm.edu. T Spring 2015 journal can be viewed online at: <http://www.flipsnack.com/wetherbydesign/the-red-wheelbarrow-2015-uvm-college-of-medicine.html>
