

There are many gender-inclusive, single-user, lockable restrooms on-campus. Most of them are simply marked “Restroom.”

Gender inclusive facilities like these are available to and benefit everyone:

- women no longer have to wait in line when the 'women's' room is full and the 'men's' room is empty;
- people with disabilities who have attendants of a different gender than them don't face the awkwardness of gender-segregated bathrooms, and
- gender-variant and trans people, who otherwise might experience harassment, or even violence, can pee in peace.
